

ARKANSAS BLACK HISTORY

Courtesy of the Milwaukee Area Technical College

Sidney Moncrief (1957 -) was born in Little Rock. Moncrief attended the University of Arkansas (Fayetteville) where he played guard and led the school's basketball team to the NCAA's Final Four in 1978. After graduating, he played for the Milwaukee Bucks for 10 seasons. Later, Moncrief was hired as shooting coach of the Golden State Warriors and assistant coach of the Milwaukee Bucks. To find out more about Sidney Moncrief or for more examples of black excellence, visit the Mosaic Templars Cultural Center.

