DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Boone-Murphy-Moore House, built prior to 1861, was originally a single pile with central hall. The plan is rectangular. The structure has been much altered. There are shed additions to the east and west sides. Two small porches with turned posts are encased in these additions. The barge boards and roof cresting were added in the 1880's. The roof is tin shingles and the house is weatherboard.

Plywood covers two saddlebag porches with turned posts and sawn brackets. The house is scheduled to be restored to its original exterior appearance.

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

According to several sources the small Boone-Murphy-Moore house which was originally located at 702 West Second Avenue, Pine Bluff, was the second headquarters of the Union Army during its occupation of the town from 1863 to 1865. The first headquarters of Colonel Powell Clayton's troops was the Taylor-Portis home at 216 East Second Avenue.¹ (This house was razed in 1962.) During the battle of Pine Bluff on October 25, 1863, Colonel R. C. Newton's Fifth Arkansas Cavalry took the headquarters and Newton took all of the papers found in Clayton's adjutant-general's

After the battle the Union Army revamped the location of their forces and built breastworks to make defense of the town easier. This probably when the headquarters was moved to Curran (Beech) Street Lake (Second) Avenue.

In a series of land transactions, Thomas A. Boone had acquired Lots 1 and 2, Block 33 of Woodruff's addition, west, on April 9, 1860.³ The 1860 census of Pine Bluff shows Boone, 28, was a merchant. His wife was Emily R. Boone, 25, and they had two children, J. E. Boone, 6, a daughter, and Robert B. Boone, 4 a son. The Boones were born in South Carolina and their children in North Carolina which indicated they were newcomers to Arkansas.⁴ The Boones built a home on the lots in 1860. The assessment and tax records of Jefferson County for 1861 show Mrs. Emily R. Boone owned two city lots valued at $4,000, household furniture valued at $500 and two slaves.⁵ The house was apparently financed by a loan obtained by Boone and his wife from Richard H. Martin of Dallas County. The two lots and 960 acres of land were given as security.⁶ This loan was paid off and on February 2, 1861, Boone borrowed money from Robert S. Thompson and his partner William H. Dupuy using the city property and land for security.⁷

Mrs. Martha Harvie Marks Hudson gave this personal remembrance of Pine Bluff during the Civil War:

Mrs. Frazier lived close to my father (at Marks' Mill). She had a large home and fine servants. One time she was giving a house party and I was one of the guests, when we looked down the road, the whole earth seemed full of Bluecoats. They always put the spur to their horses when they came in sight of a house, to keep anyone from escaping. General C.....(Clayton) and officers dashed in, sat down and brought Negroes to the table, just to tease Mrs. Frazier. She was furious, and said: 'Make those Negroes get up from my table.' She would have said more, but we gathered around her, begged her to hush, or they would burn the house down. That quieted her, and they soon cleaned up everything on the table.

After they had eaten, they came and sat down without being invited. General C. said: 'Why don't you come to Pine Bluff?' I answered: 'Because you won't let us.' He said, 'Come up and send word to headquarters, and I will let you in.' He kept his word, and when we rode up (to Pine Bluff) on the old horses they had left us, in place of our fine ones, and gave our names to the picket, General C. sent word to pass us in. The home of Mrs. Charles F. Moore, 702 West Second Avenue, one story then, was his headquarters.⁸

After the Civil War Boone had not paid off his mortgage to Thompson and Dupuy and on December 15, 1866, Thompson, as the surviving member of the firm brought a foreclosure suit.⁹ The court appointed Charles M. Bagg commissioner to sell the property and at a public auction held on the courthouse steps June 2, 1867, David W. Carroll as trustee for Thompson bought the property.¹⁰ Carroll sold the house and lots to John P. Murphy on January 14, 1871, for $2,900.¹¹

Murphy, a native of Ireland, born in 1843, came to Pine Bluff in 1859. He joined the Jefferson Guards as a private and served in the Confederate Army throughout the war.¹² After the war he entered business in Pine Bluff and the 1870 census showed he owned real estate worth $2,000 and personal property valued at $10,000.¹³

Murphy married Mary (Mollie) K. Jones at the home of her grandfather by marriage, Creed Taylor of New Gascony, on April 8, 1875, an elaborate affair which included a river excursion on the Steamer "Belle of Texas."¹⁴ As a bridal gift on the eve of his wedding Murphy deeded the house and lots to his wife.¹⁵ The Murphys lived there until he died on December 16, 1892.¹⁶ He was survived by his wife and two sons, Carter Boone and Clifton P. Murphy.¹⁷ In August, 1894, Mrs. Murphy, moved the house to the West side of Lot 2 and constructed a large two and half story house with tall columns - a virtual southern mansion.¹⁸ The small house was used as a servants' quarters first and later as a storeroom. Mrs. Murphy married Charles F. Moore at the St. Joseph's Catholic Church, June 14, 1895.¹⁹

After acquiring the property from the Murphy family, The Trinity Episcopal Church razed the big home and moved the small house to the back of Lot 1 to make room for a day school. The small house was used as a residence and in recent years, as a day school office and library.

Carter B. Murphy's daughter, Elizabeth, said her grandmother told her the small house in the side yard was used as a Union troop's headquarters.²⁰ Nancy Rundle also said the house was used as the Union Headquarters in her account of the Battle of Pine Bluff.²¹

In the spring of 1977 the Trinity Episcopal Day School decided to further expand the school facilities. To do this the space occupied by the small house was needed. The house was given to the Pine Bluff Women's Center provided they could find a lot for it. A lot was obtained at 714 West Fourth Avenue and the house was moved in June, 1977. The Women's Center is planning to restore the house and use it for an organizational headquarters.

Re: Boone-Murphy-Moore House
Pine Bluff, Jefferson County

Dear Ms. Kilmer:

The staff of the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program is preparing a National Register nomination for the Boone-Murphy-Moore House which will be presented to the Arkansas State Review Committee at their September meeting. If approved, the nomination will be submitted to the National Register office in Washington for final consideration.

The National Register of Historic Places is a listing of historic sites, buildings, objects and districts from all across the country that are worthy of preservation.

Entry in the National Register is an honor which places no obligation on a private owner. It does, however, provide protection through comment by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation from federally financed, assisted or licensed projects that might affect a National Register property.

On October 4, 1976, the President signed a Tax Reform Act of which Section 2124 refers to tax incentives for historic properties. Enclosed you will find an information sheet on that tax act.

If you have any questions concerning the program or this property's nomination, please contact Sandra Taylor of our staff.

Enclosed are two copies of this letter. Please complete the form below, sign and return the original to our office. The copy is for your files. We would appreciate receiving any comments you might have concerning the nomination of this property. If we do not hear from you within 30 days, your approval will be assumed.

Sincerely,

Barbara Woodard
